

Helping the world

Nisargadatta Maharaj

If you want to help the world of ignorant, insane and suffering humanity, you will have to work in conformity with the god or gods presiding over the world. They are cosmic engineers who have tremendous power to make things happen a certain way for collective humanity at certain times. It is a huge machine and you will have to learn how it works and cooperate with it even where you do not like what has been decided.

Another approach is to just let the big cosmic machine that controls humanity act out its plan without your interference but also without your own cooperation or participation. On this course, you aim instead at full-blown self-discovery and self-realization on the divine level that makes you yourself into a god. Then, once you are a god, you can decide where, when and how you will participate in the existence and projects of the universe, including the pitiful planet earth.
